Article 3

General provisions on privileges and immunities of the Court

The Court shall enjoy in the territory of each State Party such privileges and immunities as are necessary for the fulfilment of its purposes.¹⁶

Article 4

Inviolability of the premises of the Court

The premises of the Court shall be inviolable.¹⁷

Article 5^a

Flag, emblem and markings

The Court shall be entitled to display its flag, emblem and markings at its premises and on vehicles and other means of transportation used for official purposes.¹⁸

Article 6^b

Immunity of the Court, its property, funds and assets

1. The Court, and its property, funds and assets, wherever located and by whomsoever held, shall be immune from every form of legal process, except insofar as in any particular case the Court has expressly waived its immunity. It is, however, understood that ~~no~~ such waiver of immunity shall not extend to any measure of execution.¹⁹

2. The property, funds and assets of the Court, wherever located and by whomsoever held, shall be immune from search, seizure, requisition, confiscation, expropriation and any other form of interference, whether by executive, administrative, judicial or legislative action.²⁰

^a It was agreed that this article should be moved.

¹⁸ Agreement on the Privileges and Immunities of the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea, article 4; ICTY Headquarters Agreement, article XIII.

^b One delegation proposed to grant also to Counsel the immunities on property, funds and assets provided to the Court in this article, in order to fulfil the requirement of equality of arms. Some delegations were of the view that the immunities in article 6 could not be extended to Counsel. This issue will be revisited in the context of article 16.

3. To the extent necessary to carry out the functions of the Court, the property, funds and assets of the Court shall be exempt from restrictions, regulations, controls or moratoria of any nature.²¹

Article 7^c

Inviolability of archives and all documents of the Court

The archives of the Court, and in general all documents and materials belonging to the Court, held by it, made available to the Court or used by it, wherever located and by whomsoever held, shall be inviolable.²²

Article 8

Exemption from taxes, customs duties and import or export restrictions

1. The Court, its assets, income and other property, and its operations and transactions shall be exempt from all direct taxes, which include, inter alia, income tax, capital tax, corporation tax as well as direct taxes levied by local and provincial authorities. It is understood, however, that the Court shall not claim exemption from taxes which are, in fact, no more than charges for public utility services, provided at a fixed rate according to the amount of services rendered and which can be specifically identified, described and itemized.²³

2. The Court shall be exempt from all customs duties, import turnover taxes and prohibitions and restrictions on imports and exports in respect of articles imported or exported by the Court for its official use and in respect of its publications.²⁴

3. Goods imported or purchased under such an exemption shall not be sold or otherwise disposed of in the territory of a State Party, except under conditions agreed with the competent authorities of that State Party.²⁵

²¹ Convention on the Privileges and Immunities of the United Nations, article II, section 5; Agreement on the Privileges and Immunities of the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea, article 5, para. 3; ICTY Headquarters Agreement, article VIII, para. 2.

^c Following the discussion of article 7 in the Working Group and further discussions and informal consultations, some delegations worked on the possible reformulation of the article in the light of the observations made. As a result of the consultations, the following proposal was made: The archives of the Court and in general all documents and materials being sent [to or] from the Court, belonging to the Court or held by it, wherever located and by whomsoever held, shall be inviolable. Such inviolability shall be without prejudice to protective measures that the Court may order pursuant to the Statute and the Rules of Procedure and Evidence with regard to documents and materials made available to or used by the Court.

This proposal was not discussed.

²⁵ Convention on the Privileges and Immunities of the United Nations, article II, section 7 (b); Agreement on the Privileges and Immunities of the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea; ICTY Headquarters Agreement, article X, para. 5.

Article 9Reimbursement of duties and/or taxes

1. The Court shall not, as a general rule, claim exemption from duties and taxes which are included in the price of movable and immovable property and taxes paid for services rendered. Nevertheless, when the Court for its official use makes major purchases of property and goods or services on which identifiable duties and taxes are charged or are chargeable, States Parties shall make appropriate administrative arrangements for the exemption of such charges or reimbursement of the amount of duty and/or tax paid.²⁶

2. Goods ~~imported or~~ purchased under such an exemption or reimbursement shall not be sold or otherwise disposed of, except in accordance with the conditions laid down by the State Party which granted the exemption or reimbursement. No exemption or reimbursement shall be accorded in respect of charges for public utility services provided to the Court.²⁷

Article 10Funds and freedom from currency restrictions

1. Without being restricted by financial controls, regulations or financial moratoria of any kind, while carrying out its activities:²⁸

(a) The Court may hold funds, currency of any kind or gold and operate accounts in any currency;

(b) The Court shall be free to transfer its funds, gold or its currency from one country to another or within any country and to convert any currency held by it into any other currency;

(c) The Court may receive, hold, negotiate, transfer, convert or otherwise deal with bonds and other financial securities;

Alternative 1

The Court shall enjoy the ~~most favourable available~~ same facilities in respect of rates of exchange for its financial transactions as are accorded to the most favourably treated foreign mission in that particular State Party.

Alternative 2

2. In exercising its rights under paragraph 1, the Court shall pay due regard to any representations made by any State Party insofar as it is considered that effect can be given to such representations without detriment to the interests of the Court.²⁹ [Spanish “representations” = “observaciones”]

Article 11 Facilities in respect of communications

1. The Court shall enjoy in the territory of each State Party for the purposes of its official communications and correspondence treatment not less favourable than that accorded by the State Party concerned to any intergovernmental organization or diplomatic mission in the matter of priorities, rates and taxes applicable to mail and the various forms of communication and correspondence.³⁰

2. No censorship shall be applied to the official communications or correspondence of the Court.³¹

3. The Court may use all appropriate means of communication, including electronic means of communication, and shall have the right to use codes or cipher for its official communications and correspondence. The official communications and correspondence of the Court shall be inviolable.³²

4. The Court shall have the right to dispatch and receive correspondence and other materials or communications by courier or in sealed bags, which shall have the same privileges, immunities and facilities as diplomatic couriers and bags.³³

5.^d The Court shall have the right to operate radio and other telecommunications equipment on its registered frequencies and those allocated to it by the States Parties concerned.³⁴

³³ Convention on the Privileges and Immunities of the United Nations, article III, section 10; Agreement on the Privileges and Immunities of the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea, article 8, para. 3.

^d It was considered by delegations that in order to continue the discussion on this paragraph, there was need to obtain the necessary information on the existing procedures regarding the registration and allocation of frequencies relevant for application to the Court.

³⁴ ICTY Headquarters Agreement, article ~~XI~~ XI, para. 3.

Article 12^eExercise of the functions of the Court outside the headquarters

In the event that the Court pursuant to paragraph 3 of Article 3 of the Rome Statute considers it desirable to sit elsewhere than at its headquarters at The Hague in the Netherlands, the Court may conclude with the State concerned an arrangement concerning the provision of the appropriate facilities for the exercise of its functions.³⁵

Article 12 (bis)^fCrimes under the jurisdiction of the Court

Articles 13 to 17 are without prejudice to the relevant rules of international law, including the Statute, relating to the crimes under the jurisdiction of the Court.

Article 13^gPrivileges and immunities of the representatives of States Parties

1. Representatives of States Parties attending meetings of the Court and the Assembly and its subsidiary organs shall, while exercising their official functions and during their journey to and from the place of meeting, enjoy the following privileges and immunities:³⁶

2. (a) Immunity from personal arrest or detention;

(b) Immunity from legal process of any kind in respect of words spoken or written, and all acts performed by them in their official capacity; such immunity shall continue notwithstanding that the persons concerned may have ceased to exercise their functions as representatives of States Parties;

^e While some delegations favoured the retention of article 12, other delegations questioned the need for it.

³⁵ Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court, article 3, paragraph 3; Agreement on the Privileges and Immunities of the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea, article 7.

^f The possible inclusion of article 12 (bis) will be the subject of further discussion in the Working Group. Some doubts were expressed about the need for the proposed new article. Some delegations suggested that the idea contained therein could be included in the preamble.

^g Following the discussion of Article 13 in the Working Group and further discussions in informal consultations, some delegations worked on the possible reformulation of the article in the light of the observations made. As a result of the consultations, the following proposal was made: Change the title of article 13 to “Privileges and immunities of the representatives of States participating in the Assembly and its subsidiary organs”; in 13 (1), delete the words “Parties” and add the words “and intergovernmental organizations”; delete the words “the Court and”; after the words “and its subsidiary organs”, insert the phrase “and representatives of other States that may be attending the Assembly as observers, in accordance with paragraph 1 of article 112 of the Statute,”; delete “Party” and “Parties” throughout the text; in 13 (2) delete the words “the Court and”; move article 13 (3) to article 19; add a new 13 (bis) with the title “Privileges and immunities of the representatives of States participating in the proceedings of the Court”. New text would read: “Representatives of States participating in the proceedings of the Court shall, while exercising their official functions and during their journey to and from the place of the proceedings, enjoy the privileges and immunities referred to in article 13.” This proposal was not discussed.

³⁶ Convention on the Privileges and Immunities of the United Nations, article IV, section 11.

- (c) Inviolability of all papers and documents;
 - (d) The right to use codes, to receive papers or correspondence by courier or in sealed bags, and to receive and send electronic communications;
 - (e) Exemption with respect to themselves, their spouses and other members of their families forming part of their household from immigration restrictions, alien registration requirements and national service obligations in the State Party they are visiting or through which they are passing in the exercise of their functions;
 - (f) The same privileges and facilities in respect of currency or exchange restrictions as are accorded to representatives of foreign Governments on temporary official missions;
 - (g) The same immunities and facilities in respect of their personal baggage as are accorded to diplomatic envoys under the Vienna Convention;
 - (h) The same protection and repatriation facilities with respect to themselves, their spouses and other members of their families forming part of their household as are accorded to diplomatic agents in time of international crisis under the Vienna Convention;
 - (i) Such other privileges, immunities and facilities not inconsistent with the foregoing as diplomatic agents enjoy, except that they shall have no right to claim exemption from customs duties on goods imported (otherwise as part of their personal baggage) or from excise duties or sales taxes.
2. Where the incidence of any form of taxation depends upon residence, periods during which the representatives of States Parties attending the meetings of the Court and the Assembly are present in a State Party for the discharge of their duties shall not be considered as periods of residence.³⁷
3. Privileges and immunities are accorded to the representatives of States Parties not for the personal benefit of the individuals themselves, but in order to safeguard the independent exercise of their functions in connection with the work of the Court and the Assembly. Consequently, a State Party not only has the right but is under a duty to waive the immunity of its representative in any case where, in the opinion of that State Party, the immunity would impede the course of justice, and where it can be waived without prejudice to the purpose for which the immunity is accorded.³⁸
4. The provisions of paragraphs 1 and 2 of this article are not applicable as between a representative and the authorities of the State Party of which he or she is a national or of which he or she has been a representative.³⁹

Article 14

3. Experts, witnesses and other persons accorded the privileges, immunities and facilities referred to in paragraph 1 of this article shall be provided by the Court with a document certifying that their presence is required at the seat of the Court and specifying a time period during which such presence is necessary.

Article 18

Cooperation with the authorities of States Parties

1. The Court shall cooperate at all times with the appropriate authorities of States Parties to facilitate the execution of their laws and to prevent the occurrence of any abuse in connection with the privileges, immunities and facilities referred to in the present Agreement.⁵⁸

2. Without prejudice to their privileges and immunities, it is the duty of all persons enjoying privileges and immunities under the present Agreement to respect the laws and regulations of the State Party in whose territory they may be on the business of the Court or through whose territory they may pass on such business. They also have a duty not to interfere in the internal affairs of that State.⁵⁹

Waiver

1. ~~Inasmuch as~~ The privileges and immunities provided for in articles 14 to 17 of the present Agreement are granted in the interests of the good administration of justice and not for the personal benefit of the individuals themselves. ~~Such~~ Such privileges and immunities may be waived in accordance with article 48, paragraph 5, of the ~~Rome~~ Statute and the provisions of this article and there is a duty to do so in any particular case, where they can be waived without prejudice to the purpose for which they are accorded.⁶⁰

2. The privileges and immunities may be waived:⁶¹

(a) In the case of a judge or the Prosecutor, by an absolute majority of the judges;

^v Following the discussion of article 23 in the Working Group, some delegations worked on a possible reformulation of the Article in light of the observations made in the course of the discussion. As a result of their consultations, the following reformulation of article 23 and a newly proposed article 23 (bis) were proposed:

“Article 23. Settlement of disputes with third parties

The Court, with the approval of the Assembly, shall make provisions for appropriate modes of settlement of:

(a) Disputes arising out of contracts and other disputes of a private law character to which the Court is a party;

(b) Disputes involving any person referred to in the present Agreement who, by reason of his or her official position or function in connection with the Court, enjoys immunity, if such immunity has been waived.

Article 23 (bis). Differences on the interpretation or application of the present Agreement

1. All differences arising out of the interpretation or application of the present Agreement between two or more States Parties or between the Court and a State Party shall be settled by consultation, negotiation or other agreed mode of settlement.

2. If the difference is not settled in accordance with paragraph 1 within [3] months following a written request by one of the parties to the difference, it shall at the request of either party be referred to an arbitral tribunal according to the procedure set forth in paragraphs 3 to 6.

3. The arbitral tribunal shall be composed of three members: one to be chosen by each party to the difference and the third, who shall be chairman of the tribunal, to be chosen by the other two members. If either party has failed to make its appointment of a member of the tribunal within [2] months of the appointment of a member by the other party, the President of the International Court of Justice shall make such an appointment at the request of such a party. Should the first two members fail to agree upon the appointment of the chairman of the tribunal within [3] months following their appointment, the chairman shall be chosen by the President of the International Court of Justice upon the request of either party to the difference.

4. Unless the parties to the difference otherwise agree, the arbitral tribunal shall determine its own procedure and the expenses shall be borne by the parties as assessed by the tribunal.

5. The arbitral tribunal, which shall decide by a majority of votes, shall reach a decision on the difference on the basis of the provisions of this Agreement and the applicable rules of international law. The decision of the arbitral tribunal shall be final and binding on the parties to the difference.

6. The decision of the arbitral tribunal shall be communicated to the parties to the difference, to the Registrar and to the Secretary-General.”

The above proposal was not discussed.

Another group of delegations made the proposal to amend the last paragraph of article 23 as follows:

“The arbitral tribunal shall reach its decision by a majority of votes on the basis of the rules indicated in article 38 of the Statute of the International Court of Justice. Its decision shall be final and binding on the parties to the dispute, even if rendered in default of one of the parties to the dispute.”

The above proposal was also not discussed.

1. The Court shall make suitable provisions for the settlement of:⁶⁶
 - (a) Disputes arising out of contracts and other disputes of a private law character to which the Court is a party;
 - (b) Disputes involving any person referred to in the present Agreement who, by reason of his or her official position, enjoys immunity, if such immunity has not been waived.
2. All disputes arising out of the interpretation or application of the present Agreement shall be referred to an arbitral tribunal unless the parties have agreed to another mode of settlement. If a dispute arises between the Court and a State Party which is not settled by consultation, negotiation or other agreed mode of settlement within three months following a request by one of the parties to the dispute, it shall at the request of either party be referred for final decision to a panel of three arbitrators: one to be chosen by the Court, one to be chosen by the State Party and the third, who shall be Chairman of the panel, to be chosen by the first two arbitrators. If either party has failed to make its appointment of an arbitrator within two months of the appointment of an arbitrator by the other party, the President of the International Court of Justice shall make such appointment. Should the first two arbitrators fail to agree upon the appointment of the third arbitrator within three months following the appointment of the first two arbitrators, the third arbitrator shall be chosen by the President of the International Court of Justice upon the request of the Court or the State Party. Unless the parties decide otherwise, the arbitral tribunal shall determine its own procedure. The expenses of the arbitral tribunal shall be borne by the parties to the dispute as assessed by the arbitral tribunal. The arbitral tribunal shall reach its decision by a majority of votes on the basis of the applicable rules of international law. In the absence of such rules, it shall decide ex aequo et bono. The decision of the arbitral tribunal shall be final and binding on the parties to the dispute, even if rendered in default of one of the parties to the dispute.⁶⁷

Article 25Entry into force⁶⁸

1. The present Agreement shall enter into force thirty days after the date of deposit with the Secretary-General of the United Nations of the tenth instrument of ratification, acceptance, approval or accession.
2. For each State ratifying, accepting, approving or acceding to the present Agreement after the deposit of the tenth instrument of ratification, acceptance, approval or accession, the Agreement shall enter into force on the thirtieth day following the deposit with the Secretary-General of the United Nations of its instrument of ratification, acceptance, approval or accession.

Article 26Denunciation⁶⁹

1. A State Party may, by written notification addressed to the Secretary-General of the United Nations, denounce the present Agreement. The denunciation shall take effect one year after the date of receipt of the notification, unless the notification specifies a later date.
2. The denunciation shall not in any way affect the duty of any State Party to fulfil any obligation embodied in this Agreement to which it would be subject under international law independently of the present Agreement.

Article 27Depositary

The Secretary-General of the United Nations shall be depositary of the present Agreement.

Article 28Authentic texts

The original of the present Agreement, of which the Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian and Spanish texts are equally authentic, shall be deposited with the Secretary-General of the United Nations.

In witness thereof, the undersigned, being duly authorized thereto, have signed the present Agreement.
